Opening of the Republican Campaign

IN THE STATE LAST NIGHT

Well Known Orators Present Protection and Reciprocity to the People.

Special to The Republican.

VISALIA, September 3.—Local Republicans have been busy all day decorating the town for the campaign opening, and the streets were almost impassable for an hour preceding the parade.

At 8.15 the motor brought over ninety-three members of the Tulare club in their new flashing uniforms, and their guest of today, the Hon. Walter G. Smith, accompanied by a carload of Tulare's best people.

On their arrival the parade moved promptly through the principal streets amid the booming of cannons, firecrackers and red fireworks were in abundance along the route.

Visalia's club had over 100 red, white and blue umbrella torches.

The Tulare, Visalia and Exeter bands furnished the music.

Armory hall was too small and many had to go home disappointed, being unable to find standing room.

The Glee club rendered some fine selections.

Judge Davis introduced Hon. Walter G. Smith of San Diego as the speaker of the evening, and he made a telling speech.

KNIGHT AND SCOTT.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 3.—The Republican campaign opened tonight throughout the state. In San Francisco it took the form of a demonstration at the New Wigwam.

Horace Davis presided, and the principal speeches of the evening were delivered by George A. Knight and Irving M. Scott. Their theme was protection as put into exercise by the Republican party through the medium of the McKinley act.

At the close of the meeting the president of the evening, orators and other notables and active workers of the party were escorted by the drill corps of the Union League to the club's quarters on Geary street, above Powell. There numerous speeches were made, although of a more informal character than at the public gathering.

GOVERNOR MARKHAM PRESIDED.

LOS ANGELES, September 3.—The Republicans formally opened the campaign in this city with a demonstration at Hazard pavilion. Governor H. H. Markham acted as president of the evening, and speeches were made by Hon. William Williams, Judge R. B. Carpenter and Hervey Lindley.

JUDGE SHORT.

SANTA BARBARA, September 3.—The Republican campaign opened here this evening with a large torchlight procession and speaking at the opera house. Judge Frank Short of Fresno addressed a large audience.

BERRY AND LING.

SANTA ANA, September 3.—The Republicans held an open meeting tonight, preceded by a torchlight procession and fireworks. Mills hall was crowded to hear Hon. J. R. Berry and Judge R. A. Ling.

DAVIS AND MATLOCK.

SISSON, September 3.—The Republicans held a mass meeting tonight and were addressed by E. W. Davis, nominee for congress, and J. T. Matlock of Red Bluff.

On a Hot Trail.

SAN BERNARDINO, September 3.—Two squads formed last night to follow the men who called at Mrs. Robinson's, near Colton, and who are believed to be the Fresno train robbers. The squads were formed of three men each, one going by way of Box springs and the other by way of Reche canyon, searching all trails for tracks of the two men. The squads met at Moreno early this morning and having found nothing started on their return to this city. On the way back they struck a fresh trail of two men leading into the foothills through the brush. Officers followed the trail for several hours without result and finally gave it up as the robbers had twelve hours the start. A new posse is now being formed in Colton by Detective Smith, in conjunction with the sheriff's officers to head off the men. It is believed here that there is a fair prospect of their being captured.

THE SLUGGERS.

News of the Condition of the Principals.

NEW ORLEANS, September 3.—News from McAuliffe's headquarters this evening is to the effect that there is no let up in drinking there, and whether McAuliffe is in condition or not will probably not be known until he enters the ring. According to his own statement he weighs three pounds over the limit. That may be put out to influence betting, but there is no doubt that along with his daily work McAuliffe takes libations of beer.

Eddy Myer said his brother is in good condition, but had nothing to say in the way of bragging. The Olympic club tonight announced that it would prohibit it at the ring side.

Sullivan's special is due at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Dixon continues training in a quiet way and so far as condition is concerned no pugilist ever entered the ring in better shape. He will probably come to the city on Monday.

Skelly is in fine condition and promises to give a good account of himself.

There is little or no change in the betting since yesterday.

"SCAB."

The Word Creates Trouble Among Excursionists.

PITTSBURG, September 3.—As an excursion party on the steamer City of Pittsburg was passing Homestead tonight some of the passengers shouted "Scab!" at the workmen in Carnegie's mill. A number of soldiers quickly boarded the tugboat Tide and started for the City of Pittsburg. The two boats collided and the militia men made a bayonet charge on the excursionists.

In the rush women were knocked down, and one had a leg broken and severe internal injuries inflicted. A scene of the wildest excitement followed, which soon developed into a complete panic. Women fainted by the score and four children were trampled under foot and seriously injured. About twenty-five of the passengers were arrested and taken to Homestead, charged with disgraceful conduct.

BRUTAL WRETCHES.

REVOLTING BRUTALITY OF TWO WOMEN.

Grass Valley Furnishes a Shooting as Well as a Cutting Affair.

KNOX, Ind., September 3.—Near San Pierre, yesterday, Nicholas Gearly, an old German farmer, had a misunderstanding with his wife and she left him, going over to live with her married daughter, Mrs. Charles Kersting, who resides on an adjoining farm. About 6 o'clock in the evening the old man tried to persuade his wife to return home with him, which she refused to do, whereupon he tried to eject her from the house. At this juncture his stepdaughter, Mrs. Charles Kersting, struck him on the head with an ax, knocking him down. The women then dragged him out into the front yard, where Mrs. Gearty held him while Mrs. Kersting stabbed him to death with a butcher knife. He was stabbed and cut in over fifty places on the body and face. One cut severed the jugular vein and eight cuts were through the groin and abdomen. His face was almost literally cut to pieces. The women are under arrest. They are now strongly guarded, as fears of their being lynched are entertained.

FATAL STABBING.

GRASS VALLEY, September 3.—Andrew C. Dunlevy, son of Captain Dunlevy of the harbor police of San Francisco, died this morning of a knife wound inflicted by William Sloan in Nevada City last Saturday morning. The remains will be shipped to San Francisco for burial. The cutting was entirely unprovoked. Sloan is in custody, but his examination has not yet taken place.

SHOT FOR TRESPASSING.

GRASS VALLEY, September 3.—This morning Horace G. Leeman shot James G. James at Leeman's ranch, two miles south of Grass Valley. It is alleged that Jones was cutting wood on Leeman's land and had been warned not to do so. The wounds are made by small shot and are not supposed to be dangerous. Jones walked into town and made a complaint. Leeman stands high in the community.

MURDERED HER STEPMOTHER.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., September 3.—News has been received of a tragedy at Greenbrier, Nelson county. John Nally's daughter this morning with a shotgun shot and killed her stepmother to whom Mr. Nally has been married six months. She and the daughter had not been able to agree.

Good for Youngsters.

INDEPENDENCE, Ia., September 3.—Light attendance, good weather and track good. The principal feature of the closing day of the great Rush park meeting was a 2-year-old trot for $5000. Silicon, three straight, Ora Wilkes, Wilkes Maid and Lazelle. Best time, 2.20¼.

219 pace, $1000—San Pedro three straight, Barney, Maud M, others drawn or distanced. Best time, 2.10¼.

Roy Wilkes, once the champion pacing stallion of the world, started against his mark of 2.08¼, and paced a mile in 2.07¾.

Moses in the Chair.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 3.—Professor Bernard Moses today was elected president of the University of California by the university regents. Professor Moses for a number of years has filled the chair of history and political economy at the university.

Blown Up.

GREENCASTLE, September 3.—The new bark Ash Mountain, with twenty tons of gunpowder on board, lying at anchor in the Firth of Clyde, blew up this morning. The vessel was almost torn to pieces, but by a miracle no one was killed.

THE TERRIBLE PLAGUE

Great Alarm Over Fresh Arrivals

WHO ARE SICK WITH CHOLERA

Nothing Can Prevent Its Spread After a Landing is Once Effected.

NEW YORK, September 3.—Nothing can now save the metropolis from the great plague but absolute compliance on the part of every member of the community, with the instructions of the board of health and the quarantine authorities.

The danger is real, and cannot be estimated.

Newly infected steamships arrived in the harbor today with awful stories of death and suffering. They were the Rugia and Normania, both from Hamburg.

The Rugia buried five steerage passengers at sea and had five living cholera patients still on board when she cast anchor.

The Normania buried four steerage and one cabin passenger. She had four patients still alive, one being a member of the crew.

It is claimed that the cabin passenger who died on the Normania was suffering from diabetes.

Only convalescent cases are considered very serious and more deaths are likely to occur.

CHOLERA ON BOARD.

NEW YORK, September 3.—Advices from the health officers at the quarantine states that the American Packet company's office reports five deaths from Asiatic cholera on the Normannia, two cabin and three steerage. Four other people on board now have the disease.

SENT BACK.

PARIS, September 3.—In consequence of President Harrison's proclamation for a twenty-days' quarantine and the subsequent decision of the Transatlantique company to carry no more steerage passengers, groups of Italians were intercepted in this city last night bound for America via Havre, and informed that they could not proceed. They have been sent back to Italy at the expense of the French government.

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT.

NEW YORK, September 3.—It was 11.45 at the quarantine when Dr. Jenkins received reporters, and said: "Gentlemen, according to my reports there were nine new cases of cholera on the Rugia, four deaths and five convalescents. On the Moravia there is one additional case today, an 8-year-old boy."

TRYING TO GET THE SLOGGERS.

NEW YORK, September 3.—A large party of friends are on board the Black Bird waiting to take Parson Davies, Peter Jackson and Joe Choynski up to New York, if they can get permission from the health authorities to land them from the City of Rome.

MORE COMING.

LONDON, September 3.—The Inman line steamer City of New York, for New York, the American line steamer Ohio for Philadelphia, the White Star steamer Brittanic for New York, and the Cunard line steamer Catalonia for Boston, all have steerage passengers aboard. It was said that all vessels sailing from Liverpool for American ports would carry no steerage passengers, and literally this was true, for all the passengers boarded the steamer at Queenstown.

FROM DR. JENKINS.

WASHINGTON, September 3.—Assistant Secretary Spaulding said there was no occasion for any friction in the administration of quarantine regulations and he did not think that any existed. Dr. Jenkins has been very busy and has not had time to read the proclamation carefully, but he was satisfied that things would properly adjust themselves.

Dispatches from Consul General Edwards at Berlin, received at the state department today, said that cholera had been officially declared to exist in forty places in north Germany.

The city of Hamburg shows an increase in the number of cases and a decrease in the death rate.

Vesuvius in Eruption.

CANTANIA, September 3.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius has increased in volume. A dense mass of lava is flowing down the moutain side.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

They Held a Business Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

The Democratic county central committee and advisory committee met yesterday afternoon in joint session and were called to order by Chairman J. C. Collyer.

A motion was made by Major S. S. Wright that the chairman of the central committee be appointed a committee of one to secure Democratic headquarters for the campaign.

The finance committee reported through S. S. Wright. The report was adopted. J. M. Griffin was chosen to fill the vacancy on the committee caused by the resignation of W. K. Heiskell.

STEALING A RIG.

Park Policeman Wofford Makes an Important Arrest.

A man who gave his name as J. Campbell was arrested by Park Policeman Wofford last night while trying to steal a team of horses and a buggy from the front of the courthouse park while the Republican meeting was in progress. He unhitched a horse attached to a buggy, and when Wofford questioned him as to its ownership he said he had made a mistake, and Wofford watched him and shortly afterwards Campbell unhitched a double team and attempted to make away with it.

That Is The Question. BE CURED?

—We Say Most Emphatically—

YES!

The greatest difficulties that honest and legitimate remedies have to contend with is the charlatan and fakir. He comes with blowing trumpet and gilded coach to impose upon the people his worthless nostrums, and when they have been fooled they lose faith in the good as well as the bad.

A RAILROAD to Monterey meets with unanimous approval in Fresno.

IF claws were evidence the assassins would have been in jail long ago.

MEN who openly preach the doctrine of murder have been too long tolerated in the community.

YESTERDAY'S Wasp contains a full page portrait in colors of Hon. Jefferson G. James of Fresno county. Mr. James' picture has a gubernatorial expression that is quite hopeful.

THE time will come when a motor road from Fresno to Hanford will be equal to a double line from Hanford to the seaboard, says the Sentinel. If Fresno gets the new road to Monterey a connecting line from Hanford to Fresno would put us on deck in good shape.

A WEEKLY contemporary prints in its department of society news a very flattering notice of Nancy Hanks, the new queen of the turf. Members of the local Four Hundred may have thought the item out of place, but it really would seem that Nancy is fast enough to entitle her to entry into the fleetest circles in the country.

THE people of Fresno will have to look higher than the vagrant element to find the moral responsibility for the county's bloody record. A spirit of lawlessness among people in high places and the failure in many cases to bring criminals to justice, has sown the seeds for the criminal harvest we are now reaping.

WHEN a prominent citizen is permitted, without interference by officers of the law, to parade the streets of this city armed with a shotgun for the avowed purpose of shooting another citizen, is it any wonder that men of less standing and moral responsibility come to the conclusion that armed violence is a legitimate means of settling differences and that murder is a trifling offense?

THE Californian complains that the local managers of the People's Party were notified after their recent open air mass meeting in this city that the city fathers would not hereafter tolerate the obstruction of the public streets by such gatherings. The notification came through the superintendent of streets, and as other political meetings have since been held in the same place the Californian very properly objects to the apparent discrimination shown against their organization.

THE opening of the campaign last night by the Republicans of Fresno county was a success in the best sense of the word. A large number of people assembled from all portions of the county, and the issues of the campaign were discussed in a very effective manner by that veteran Republican, Timothy Guy Phelps of San Francisco. Mr. Phelps handled the tariff question in a most masterly manner, and the report of his address which the REPUBLICAN presents to its readers this morning should be read carefully and without prejudice by every voter in the county, regardless of politics.

NOT ALTOGETHER DAMAGING

Considerable apprehension has been created among California fruit growers by the threatened visitation of cholera. It has been suggested that fear of the scourge, even though it should not appear on our shores, will interfere seriously with the sale and consumption of the fresh fruits now being shipped to eastern markets. It is not improbable that some damage will result to our fruit growers from this cause, but there is also good reason for believing that the prejudice which will be created by the cholera against foreign dried fruits and raisins which come into competition with California products will more than offset any bad effects that may be sustained in the depression of trade in fresh fruits. Commenting on this phase of the situation yesterday's San Francisco Report says:

"The prevalence of cholera in Europe some eight years ago resulted in the virtual boycotting of Spanish raisins, Sicily lemons, Tarragona almonds and nuts, French prunes, etc., and the boycott was at the time of the greatest benefit to California, as it facilitated the introduction of California products of that class in the eastern states.

"The approach of cholera to the eastern states and the epidemic of it in Europe, afford an opportunity much greater than in 1884, and the opportunity should be promptly seized by our fruit men and utilized to the utmost.

"There is not the slightest doubt that fruit is one of the most certain disseminators of cholera that is known. The common house fly is the carrier of the poison. Let a fly alight upon any of the excretions of a cholera patient, which, by the way, are of a rice water consistency and appearance and sweetish, and afterward alight upon any article of food, and enough poison is left upon that food in an instant to kill a man. Of course fruit—such as raisins, prunes, etc.—readily attracts the fly, and it is not hard to imagine what the danger is from what source in the warm climate of southern Europe, where flies swarm everywhere as we never see them here, where cholera patients are sickening and dying on the streets, in the fields and everywhere, and where the fruit lies in masses, exposed to the air and anything that the air brings.

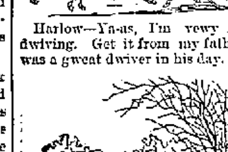

"A mere statement of these facts would bring the instant assent of any physician or other experienced person, as to the great danger involved in the importation and consumption of European fruit, and it would take very little to convince the people of the United States how much better it would be to use the clean, wholesome and at least equally good fruit of California than run the awful risk of consuming fruit from the plague-stricken countries of Europe.

"We hope the fruit men of California will take concerted action at once to push their interests and those of the state in this matter. The sooner action is taken the better; and if energetic action be taken and our fruit be well introduced on the cholera wave, so to speak, a great and permanent market can be made."

IF San Francisco expects to control the trade of this valley its business men will have to show some interest in the matter of securing enlarged and improved transportation facilities. Fresno is determined to have a direct and competing railroad to the seaboard, and as San Francisco ignores the demand, Monterey will reap the benefit of railroad connection with the richest agricultural section of the state. If San Francisco can do nothing better than sit down by her big bay and growl about the enterprise of smaller cities she deserves to lose all her trade.

WHEN more than two thousand people assemble and listen attentively from beginning to end to a plain, matter-of-fact argument in favor of the Republican doctrine of protection, it does not look very much as though Fresno Republicans had become discouraged and lost interest in their cause, as frequently stated by the opposition. The fact is that the Republicans of this county were never more fully alive to the importance of their principles and their duty as citizens, than they are at the present time.

SICK Head-Aches.

Sick-headaches are the outward indications of derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, is the only bowel regulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is seen why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in sick-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an absolute cure. After a course of it an occasional dose at intervals will forever after prevent return.

Jno. M. Cox, of 735 Turk Street, San Francisco, writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of sick-headache for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time ago I bough two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since and that was on the second day after I began using it."

If the energy being wasted in trying to prove that L. B. McWhirter committed suicide were used in the pursuit of the assassins they would soon be caught. The source from which the suicide theory emanates is sufficient to damn it, and the willingness with which the local authorities give ear to it is very suspicious.

The Republican Meeting Last Night.

LOGICAL ADDRESSES

Hon. T. G. Phelps On the Tariff.

A GREAT BENEFIT

Cheapening the Prices of All Products

And Protecting American Labor From Foreign Competition—Statistics That Cannot Be Controverted. Disastrous Effects of a Tariff for Revenue Only in Great Britain.

Where did all the Republicans come from last night?

They swarmed all over town and the air buzzed with enthusiasm.

The brass bands from Selma and Madera awakened the echoes with patriotic music and also awakened sleepy Democrats who rubbed their eyes and realized that they were behind the age.

There was a great crowd, numbering about 2000 people, around the speaker's stand in the park, and all along its western front teams from the city and teams from the country were hitched.

It was a Republican crowd, too, as could be seen by the continued and spontaneous applause which greeted every good point made by the speakers, and the good points were many.

DR. DEARDOFF'S ADDRESS.

Dr. A. G. Deardorff called the meeting to order and spoke as follows:

"Fellow citizens and fellow Republicans.—Being the vice chairman of the Republican County Central committee of Fresno county, it has been made my duty to call this meeting to order for the purpose of opening the Republican campaign in Fresno county.

"I am proud to stand before you this evening, representing the principles of one of the grandest organizations, a party that has done more to advance good government and civilization than any party ever called into existence.

"May its principles ever be perpetuated, and may the principles of government advanced by Abraham Lincoln, U. S. Grant, W. T. Sherman, James A. Garfield, William McKinley, James G. Blaine and hundreds of other Republicans of no less repute be ever fresh in our memory and history.

"Fellow citizens, we can all point with pride to the administration of public affairs in the United States the last four years, and now as we are opening the campaign, let every Republican and every citizen work earnestly and hard for the success of our party in both county and state, and support that grand soldier, statesman and president, the Hon. Benjamin Harrison.

DR. ROWELL'S REMARKS.

After the reading of the list of vice presidents, Dr. Chester Rowell was introduced and spoke as follows:

"Fellow citizens, the Republicans of California tonight inaugurate the campaign for Harrison and Reid. [Applause.] This is not to be a campaign of bluster nor of personal abuse. The Republican party of this nation can well afford to appeal to the intelligence, to the good judgment and to the sense of justice of the American people.

"As a party its history is so interwoven with everything that is good and grand that it is the common pride of all citizens. In the past, on all great questions, is has always been right, and on the live issues of today it is unquestionably right. There is today every reason why there should be a perpetuation of the Republican administration.

"The administration of President Harrison has carried with it a sense of security, it has given confidence to the people of this nation, and it has assured equal rights to all classes of citizens irrespective of party affiliation.

"There are many questions that should be discussed in a political campaign, and these questions will be discussed here tonight. It has been deemed best that some one of our local talent should address you first, after which you will listen to one of the most distinguished citizens and one of the oldest Republicans in the state of California."

Mark Walser was the next speaker. He began by saying that through the courtesy of the Democratic officials of Fresno county they were permitted to occupy the court house grounds for the purposes of the meeting, and he extended the thanks of the Republican county central committee for the privilege, together with the assurance "that after November 8th when we occupy the court house we will extend to them a like favor." [Laughter and applause.]

"Some seventeen or eighteen years ago," continued Mr. Walser, "a handful of men in this county—about thirteen or seventeen—met together and began the battle in this county against the Democracy which at that time had an overwhelming majority of 1600 to 1800 to contend against.

From that time the Republican party has gone on, keeping pace with the growth of the vineyards from the time when the cattle ranges were turned into fertile fields until four years ago—and I presume that the presidential election is a fair test—when the Democratic majority in this county had been reduced to 361.

"I tell you that the Republican party in this county has progressed until we stand today with more Republicans in Fresno county than there are Democrats, and don't you forget it. [Continued applause.] My friends, the People's Party may be in it down in Texas, but it isn't in it here."

In speaking of the county ticket Mr. Walser said:

"Today the Republican party has presented before the people of this county the best ticket that ever was presented to any people. We have today a ticket that is without peer in any political party in Fresno county. We have candidates who stand upon their own individuality, and who will go before the people soliciting their votes. From the head of the ticket down to the bottom you cannot find a single man that does not stand well in the community in which he resides as a representative citizen and in every way worthy to fill the offices of this county. That we will elect the Republican ticket in the county any man who has kept posted on current events during the past twelve months, knows is an absolute certainty.

"The Democrats' dissensions and contentions among themselves have so weakened their strength that those who are honest concede that there is no candidate upon their ticket that can expect to poll the full vote of the Democratic party. We believe that many of our Republican candidates will get nearly as many Democratic votes as the Democratic candidates will.

"I desire to compliment the immense crowd that is here tonight and I hope that the meeting tonight may be of benefit to you all, and that you may go home so thoroughly imbued with the principles advanced here that you will not tolerate a Democrat to come around in your neighborhood, and if the People's Party come around there tell them they're nice people but they're mighty badly mistaken.

MR. PHELP'S SPEECH.

A Masterly Exposition of the Workings of Protection.

Timothy Guy Phelps, collector of the port of San Francisco, was then introduced and was received with applause. He has a fine voice and an imposing appearance and made a calm, clear, logical and most interesting argument. Not a dozen people had left at the close of his address and the crowd remained, expecting to hear a little more good news, but the hour was late and the meeting closed with cheers for Harrison and Reid.

The following is a synopsis of his remarks:

For the first time in eighteen years I have the pleasure of visiting this wonderful city. In the brief period of two decades has been built a city which, in olden times, would have taken a century to have completed.

He thought more than forty years ago when traveling across these dusty treeless plains what would be the effect if the sparkling water were taken from the Sierras and made to kiss the parched lips of mother earth. In my day dreams I saw a great population occupying this fair valley from Stockton to Tehachipi.

Today I find that my wildest dreams had been more than realized. You have produced a panorama of golden fruits, grapes and vines such as no other section under the light of the sun is able to produce. I congratulate on what you have accomplished and on your glorious future.

THE BUGLE SOUNDS.

The presidential campaign of 1892 has opened; the bugle has sounded; the brigadiers, colonels and captains of the line met in convention and adopted a platform of principles upon which this great battle is to be waged.

The platform of the Republican party is clear and easily understood. Every brace and bolt has the ring of the true metal. It has selected as the standard-bearer to lead the party to victory that gallant gentleman, patriotic statesman and wise president, Benjamin Harrison.

In times of peace there is very little to attract the attention of the thoughtless to the heads of the government. They are times of progress and rest in which men grow in moral stature; in which schools and seminaries of learning flourish, churches are builded, homes established and mortgages liquidated and paid off. We should all feel a degree of pride in times of peace, but notwithstanding we have had a season of peace, dark clouds have arisen that threatened to involve the nations in arms, and these clouds have been dispelled by the firmness, the sagacity and the diplomacy of the President of the United States and they have left us more honored, more respected than ever before.

A COOL HEAD.

The only thing I have heard against the President of the United States is that he is a cold man, but this I know, that his head is cool and exceedingly level. [Applause.] That was something that Italy and Chili and Mr. Gladstone found out, that when the honor and integrity of the nation and the rights of the citizens were involved there was no more moving the President of the United States than the granite base of your mountains. The world was made to know that neither the administration nor the people feared more when it could not be avoided save at the cost of honor.

I have it from no less a personage than James G. Blaine of Maine [applause] that there is no man in the United States who can write a better state paper than Benjamin Harrison. I have it from Senator Leland Stanford that on one occasion, when he called on the President, he found him writing his ultimatum to Chili, Mr. Blaine at that time being ill.

CLEVELAND IS MISTAKEN.

All my recollections of Cleveland are friendly. I believe he is by no means an inferior man, but I am one of those who believe he is entirely mistaken in the doctrines he would apply to the American people.

The Republican party believe that it is necessary to protect American labor against an unjust and ruinous competition of the product of foreign labor. We therefore believe it is necessary to maintain the protective tariff such as we now have. The Democrats go to the extreme of a tariff for revenue only, or for free trade. This directly affects every citizen, male and female, young and old, in the nation.

I presume that there are a great many people who do not understand what is meant by a protective tariff. It is simply the adjustment of a tax upon foreign merchandise so as to place a large tax upon things which we do produce or a light tax upon what we consume largely and which we do not produce.

WHAT THE TARIFF IS FOR.

We do not produce tea and coffee, and therefore a tax on these articles would be a tax on the consumer, but we do produce cotton cloths, and because wages in England are only one-half as high as in the United States, and from one-third to one-tenth as high in other countries, if admitted free they would ruin our productions. It seems strange that any statesman can be found who will not at once recognize the propriety of this regulation.

A tariff for revenue only has never been defined, and I do not think that any man on earth does know what it does mean. I presume it means a uniform tax upon all foreign products. They may intend to adopt the policy of Great Britain which the Democracy admires.

Now Great Britain is called a free-trade country, whereas in fact she derives a large revenue from duties on foreign imports. In 1891 England, with 36,000,000 of people, collected $92,475,000, while during the same year America, with $65,000,000 population, collected $175,000,000.

But England does not follow the American policy. She taxes things which she does not produce, such as prunes, raisins, tea, coffee, tobacco, etc. As the natural result her industries have been destroyed and 5,000,000 of her people have been driven by starvation and want of employment to other sections of the globe. There was a time when Irish linen was known all over the civilized globe, but that industry has been ruined by the "revenue only" tariff system of Great Britain.

THE M'KINLEY BILL.

The issue is joined. It is plain and unmistakable. The people of the United States are perfectly competent to decide these questions between the two parties, and I have no doubt whatever as to what that decision will be. It has been said by an eminent writer that all men are crazy in a degree, but I know that the McKinley bill has made all the Democrats crazy.

They attribute all evils on earth to the effects of the McKinley bill. If there had been an earthquake the McKinley bill caused it; if there has been an early frost, a deluge or a drought, nothing better could be expected from the McKinley bill. [Laughter.]

It is true that the McKinley bill and McKinley himself did make it rather hot for the Democracy in Ohio last year. One would suppose, to hear Democratic talk, that McKinley had placed the greatest burdens upon the American people that were ever known, like that of England, where every pane of glass in a peasant's cabin is taxed and retaxed to the very limit of endurance.

Is it true that the McKinley bill placed additional burdens upon the people? Far from it. The McKinley bill reduced the customs tariff $50,000,000 last year. There are 761 articles in our tariff law. Of these 289 are on the free list, twenty-five having been added by the McKinley bill, and this free list embraces in dollars and cents much more than one-half of all the importations into this country, amounting to $833,000,000.

CHANGES IN THE RATES.

Seventy-three articles that paid a compound and ad valorem rate of duty were placed on a specific free list, but with a lower rate. On eighty-four articles the rate was lowered, and on 122 the rate was raised.

Upon the free list were placed articles for which we had a use and which we could not produce. Figs, fruits, dried fruits, grapes, raisins, wines, liquors, cigars and tobacco have a high protective rate of duty. Do you think that when you pay $1.50 per day for labor you could compete in those articles of fruit with France, Spain and Italy, where wages are only 18 cents a day?

The American farmer contributes to the support of the local and federal government and he should be protected.

A BAD NEIGHBOR.

I entirely agree with Senator Morgan of Alabama that Canada has always been a bad neighbor from the seal fisheries of Alaska to the cod fisheries of the Atlantic coast. I have myself within the last two months paid out several thousand dollars for steamers and extra guards to prevent smuggled opium and smuggled Chinamen from being imported from British Columbia. Night before last they caught in the bay of Monterey twenty Chinamen smuggled in on a schooner from British Columbia and the last thing I did before I came here was to send a United States marshal to take them to San Francisco. This is a very considerable expense.

Do you suppose that the officers in British Columbia didn't know that those things were going on? Why, she had not got a mile from shore before I knew from four different sources how many Chinamen and how much opium she had on board.

NOT ENTITLED TO FREE TRADE.

These people are not entitled to any such consideration at our hands as giving them the opportunity to send their products in here free. I don't think there is a man here who would vote to let British Columbia send her lumber and other products in here free and smuggle opium and Chinese in the bargain. I was told by a prominent official that the local government expenses of Victoria are mostly paid by the tax of $50 on each Chinaman landed there, and most of them for the purpose of being smuggled into the United States.

A BRILLIANT RECORD.

Every dollar of decrease in the tariff made necessary by the expenses of the late war has been done by the Republican party. Eight years ago Tammany was going to cut our tariff in pieces. They remained in power four years, and they didn't touch the tariff nor cut it down a dollar.

So admirably adjusted is the McKinley tariff to the conditions of the country that not one industry has been injured by it.

The present Democratic house has introduced no bill looking towards legislation in that direction. They are not sincere in their declarations.

Like the man who hunted the grizzly bear, these Democratic reformers find that the tracks get too fresh and they never get near the reform. [Laughter.]

PRICES LESSENED UNDER PROTECTION.

The universal experience has been that wherever we have protected a perishable industry in this country the result has been to lessen prices. From 1847 to 1860 we were under a Democratic system of tariff, and we went under a period of depression such as the country has never known. In 1857 President Buchanan said that our mills were idle, our factories closed and our laborers out of employment.

We had low prices of American products but not low prices to the American consumer. A steel plow that would cost in those days $23.82 now costs only $11.11, and the cost of cotton goods has been reduced one-half. The balance of trade during those fourteen years was largely against us. In the present day whenever we have protected our industries the balance of trade was in our favor.

The New York Herald, a Democratic paper, tells the people that it is a bad year for calamity prophets, that the country is provokingly prosperous and that our exports for the year ending June 30, 1892, were $833,000,000, the largest ever known, and the balance of trade in our favor amounted to $104,000,000.

That shows that the producers of the country are in a prosperous and thriving condition.

All the evils predicted by the Democracy two years ago have not come to pass. During the three years of President Harrison's administration, two of which were under the McKinley bill, the laborers of New York deposited in savings banks in excess of what they had ever before deposited $87,000,000.

Mr. Peck, Democratic labor commissioner of New York, sent 8000 letters to manufacturing establishments in New York asking about the rates of wages under the McKinley bill. The report was that during last year the operators, 285,000 men, women and children, received nearly $6,500,000 more in wages than they received before the McKinley bill was passed, amounting to $42.96 per caput more than received before.

The output of the factories was $31,000,000 more than it was before. The Democrats stand aghast at that report, and say that it should never have been published, and that it was the work of an enemy. And I don't know—I hope not—but that they may assassinate this man because he told the truth, and at an inopportune time, too. [Applause.]

In 1883 wire nails were worth $8.30 a keg bought of the manufacturers in New York, and a duty of 4 cents a pound was levied. That, according to Democratic doctrine, would make them worth $12.30 a keg. The people, finding that they were to be protected, started new factories, and the result was that in 1890 wire nails were sold at $2.50 a keg—$1.50 less than the duty, and last year they were sold at $1.60 a keg, or $2.40 less than the duty.

Plow steel was taxed four cents a pound duty, and it can be bought for four cents a pound, just the amount of the duty.

We are importing 300,000,000 pounds of tin, and under the McKinley tariff there were produced in the first quarter of the year less than 1,000,000 pounds, in the second quarter 1,500,000 pounds, in the third quarter 4,500,000 pounds, in the fourth quarter 20,000,000 pounds, and in less than five years from today America will be producing every sheet of tin plate used in this country. [Applause.] If we would be prosperous ourselves we must see the country prosperous.

THE PARTY OF PROGRESS.

The speaker added that every young man should join the Republican ranks, because it was the party of progress, education and equal rights. Every child born under the stars and stripes should be entitled to an education and to the free disposition of his own time and his own talents.

"In early youth I planted my feet for the party of liberty and progress. I stood there in my manhood's years and I stand there still.

Mr. Phelps was loudly applauded at the close of his able address.

THE COLORED QUARTET.

Dr. Rowell stepped to the front and said that the American people were a cosmopolitan nation, representing all classes and conditions of people and of every shade of color. "We have colored Republicans as well as white Republicans." He then introduced the colored quartet who sang very harmoniously:

Who is going to be our next President?
Harrison.
Harrison is the man.
Cleveland had a glorious time
He couldn't hold it.

For an encore they sang "Dancing in the Moonlight" with fine effect.

Thomas Yost proposed three cheers for Harrison and Reid and the Republican party, and the meeting was declared closed.

A WORD IN SEASON

For Parents to Consider and Young People to Read.

A DESIRABLE FIELD TO ENTER

The Fresno Business College Will Open—A Place Where Business Is Taught—The True Worker—Why You Should Prepare Yourself to do This Work.

Tomorrow will be opening day at the Fresno Business College, and from the callers at its offices, and letters received asking for the information, it will be a busy day.

A fine class of young men and women graduated last year. These young people go forth to figure out the problem of life, and none may say they will not be better fitted to make the computation correctly, rapidly and satisfactorily, than without the training they have received at this business institution.

The young who enter the arena of business life; who strive to become useful and self supporting; who earn the title of "Breadwinners," are entitled to encouragement and advice. The school that teaches them to do business as business is done, and gives them a true insight into the ethics of the subject, is a humane benefactor.

We are all interested in our children, desiring them to have a peaceful, prosperous and pleasant journey through life. Is there a field so enticing, and within such easy grasp, as this business field? Observe the ever increasing demand for educated heads and skilled hands! The demand is for clear headed and steady handed workers. The demand is above the cigarette and society applicant. We know of openings every day, where the active, thoughtful young man or women, who can use the English language correctly, handle accounts and do shorthand and typewriting can find profitable employment.

The "I seen," "have saw" and "I done" applicant is not wanted. A few months' earnest application at the Fresno Business College will convert any young person. Will you come forward, or remain in dingy, dismal darkness? It rests with you.

Sol Smith Russell.

This favorite comedian will produce his new and very successful comedy-drama, "A Poor Relation," at the opera house on Tuesday, September 6th.

There are few American theater goers who have not spent an evening of mirth with this inimitable comedian. We heard a man at the entertainment say: "If I had my choice of being a United States senator, with great ability as a statesman, a divine with power to sway an audience of thousands, and the ability Sol Smith Russell has to reach the hearts of the public and make the public laugh in spite of itself, I would choose the rank of Sol Smith Russell every time." Russell is more than actor. He is a man of keen perceptions, limitless wit, genuine humanity, and possesses brain enough for a governor, or a senator, or even a President. He does things for others to imitate. He is a leader in his profession, a genuine gentleman, a warm-hearted, sympathetic, real friend of his race.

In New Quarters.

The Odd Fellows, Daughters of Rebekah, Knights of Pythias and A.O.U.W. have rented the third floor of the Spinney building on I street for their meetings. The hall is large, well-lighted by gas and electricity, has a commodious banquet room and kitchen, bath rooms, and outer and inner anterooms, all furnished in an expensive manner. Every convenience is provided for the several societies, and the lessees are more than pleased with the new location.

Fresno lodge, No. 128, K. of P., held its first meeting in the new hall Friday night, upon which occasion there was a large attendance and Page Halcomb was elevated to the position of esquire, subsequently being knighted by dispensation.

Many people not aware of the dangers of constipation, neglect the proper remedy till the habit becomes chronic, or inflammation or stoppage results. A dose or two of Ayer's Pills in the beginning would have prevented all this.

An Incendiary Attempt.

An attempt to burn a barn in the rear of Hudson's Blackstone-avenue store was made yesterday at about 1 o'clock, but was discovered in time to save it. The citizens in that part of the city are loading their shotguns, and some one will get hurt if discovered prowling around.

THE BAR'S ACTION

On the Death of Louis B. McWhirter.

FITTING RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Eulogies On the Deceased By Several Lawyers—The Nashville Bar Takes Action.

The committee appointed by the bar of Fresno a few days ago to draft appropriate resolutions on the death of Louis B. McWhirter reported yesterday morning in department 2 of the superior court.

Judges S. A. Holmes and M. K. Harris sat in banc. The attorneys present were J. P. Meux, N. C. Coldwell, H. Z. Austin, W. J. Tinnin, E. D. Edwards, F. H. Short, George E. Church, W. P. Thompson, A. M. Drew, J. G. Rhodes, George L. Harlow, H. P. Davidson, J. E. Edwards, W. D. Grady, L. O. Evarts, Oliver Wolcott, M. Farley, D. M. Seaton and Frank Laning.

The resolutions were read by W. P. Thompson, one of the committee, and are as follows:

"We, the undersigned committee, appointed to draft resolutions touching the untimely death of Louis B. McWhirter to be reported to the bar of Fresno county report the following:

"Whereas, Our brother, Louis B. McWhirter, has been taken from our midst by a sudden and untimely death, we, the members of the bar of Fresno county, California, assembled for the purpose of paying a tribute of respect to his memory, and expressing our sorrow at his loss, do adopt the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that in the death of our brother the profession has lost one of its most brilliant and talented members, one who has always been distinguished for his intellectual attainments, for his uniform kindness and courtesy to all his brethren at the bar, for his wit and genial humor, his generosity and manliness of character in all the varied relations of life; for his stern sense of right, his high sense of honor, and as the incarnation of integrity.

"In his death this bar has lost an able, honorable, independent and talented member. It is well known that he was possessed of more than natural attainments. A thorough education had been improved upon by travel at home and abroad, and by his association with men prominent in state and national affairs. He was recognized as a forcible speaker and a most interesting and entertaining conversationalist. Though but recently admitted to practice in our courts, and having been an active member of this bar but a few years, in him were recognized the traits, qualities and industrial habits that would eventually have made not only an able but a conspicuously able lawyer. In his death the profession has not only lost a talented and honorable member, but the state has lost a useful and distinguished citizen, and his family an affectionate and devoted husband and father.

We desire here to express our profound sorrow and indignation at his untimely and most lamentable taking off. By the manner of his death this community has received a shock, and a stigma has been cast upon it that only the discovery, arrest, conviction and execution of his slayers can remove or atone for. We hold it to be the duty of every good citizen to labor with untiring patience, zeal, industry and perseverance to ferret out, discover and bring to justice the perpetrators of this most heinous crime against a reputable and honorable citizen, and against the peace and dignity of the entire community in which he lived; and we, as officers of the law, and members of the bar of which he was a member, hereby pledge our best efforts in that behalf.

"Resolved, That we deplore his loss as a professional brother, as a faithful and devoted friend, and as a highminded, public-spirited citizen of our county and state. He was son, brother, husband, father and friend. He touched all the relations of life, and adorned them all.

"Resolved, That these resolutions be presented to the superior court of this county, and that the court be requested to have them spread upon the records, and that under the seal of the court a copy of these proceedings be transmitted to the family of the deceased. Signed:

W. P. THOMPSON,
FRANK H. SHORT,
N. C. COLDWELL."

After the presentation of the resolutions Mr. Thompson, a close friend of the deceased, expressed his desire to say a few words upon the life and character of McWhirter.

"I had only known the deceased for about two years," he said, "but in that time I formed not only a warm and lasting friendship, but the most exalted opinion both of his intellectual attainments and of the purity and nobleness of his motives and impulses. Perhaps as a friend I overestimated his abilities and character, but to me, standing close to him and studying the man, I believed and still believe that had he lived the ordinary span of life, he would surely have attained great prominence throughout the state.

"There was in him a breadth of mind and warmth of heart and impulse guided by great judgment and will, which must surely have made him a power in the state. He ever worked and labored for the good and best interests of his fellow men, and the influence of his character and example will remain with us so long as true nobility of character and fidelity to duty, and the demands of every relation in life are objects of commendation."

J. P. Meux followed Attorney Thompson, paying a high tribute to the dead man. He said that in purity of morals, elevated ideas and in unswerving adherence to principles of right and justice, he was above ordinary men.

Attorney George E. Church said: "There is a great, a serious and a momentous question before us. The murder of our associate has been enrolled. I speak in unison with the sentiments of all good citizens when I say that the credit of our city, the administration of justice, demand and require that the perpetrators of this most foul murder be tracked to their hiding place and brought to punishment. Shall it go abroad that there is no protection here, no safety for high minded, generous citizens, except in their own vigilance? If so, in vain are all our allurements of climate and scenery. Men will shun us as they shun a pestilence. This community must answer for 'the deep damnation of his taking off.'

"Perhaps I knew him least of all of you, but knew that he was true, generous, high minded, noble. He ought not have been an exceptional man. His virtue and his nobility ought to be more common. They should be the rule and not the exception. When I see these qualities stand out I admire them, and wish that they might be more universal among men."

M. Farley spoke a few words, in which he said it becomes all good men to be patient, cool and reasonable. Moderation and wisdom should prevail, and passion should not take the place of judgment, but a calculating, deliberate purpose should guide in seeking to bring the guilty parties to justice.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., September 2.—A meeting of the Nashville bar was held in the circuit courtroom today, presided over by Mayor Guild, to take action with reference to the death of L. B. McWhirter. The meeting was addressed by Secretary of State Miller, Colonels Goodlett and Smith, Chancellor Allison, ex-Mayor Kercheval and others, who spoke feelingly of the high character of Mr. McWhirter. Appropriate resolutions were adopted.

Not Responsible.

As regards food adulteration, the grocer is in no wise responsible for the acts of the manufacturer—if people want goods at cheap figures they must expect quality to correspond.

Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts,

Vanilla, Lemon, etc., come a few cents higher than other Extracts in the market, but they contain no poisonous or hurtful matter as an adulterant. Their quality is the highest, their flavor the finest and their perfect purity established.

A REMARKABLE INNOVATION

The City Directory Once More—Surprise Party Given to Miss Maud Pierce.

I never received such a shock in my life as when looking for an address under "B" in the new city directory the other day. I suddenly came across the name of one of the sweetest buds of our 150, and, horrible to relate, her occupation was set down as "Domestic"! I shed tears of sympathy when I thought what the feelings of the dear girl must have been when she saw that terrible word next to her aristocratic patronymic. I immediately looked for my name to see whether I had not been written down a cook or saleswoman; but, thank heaven, there was nothing but my name and address. The idea, anyway, of ascribing to a female member of the 150 so vulgar a thing as an occupation! Outside of this error I have no fault to find with the new directory, which is a neat specimen of the printer's art. It is clear to me, however, that for the convenience of our 150 we want something beside a mere commonplace directory, and I hope some one will publish a blue book soon, where there will be no hint of occupation of the money-making kind.

Will—Is Miss De Fossil one of the debutantes of note?

Charley—She was one, but she went to protest twenty years ago.

A delightful little party was given Miss Maud Pierce at her home last Thursday evening by a number of her friends. Miss Pierce will leave for Palo Alto tomorrow, where she will attend the Stanford University, and her friends decided to give her a surprise before she left. The evening was enjoyably whiled away with music and games, and excellent refreshments were served. There were present Misses Jessie Dewall, Daisy Williams, Jennie and Belle Ritchie, Delia Witt, Lilian Melvin, Annie Laurie Harris, Hallie Smith, Sadie Beatty, Maud McDonald, Allie Armstrong, Mae Pierce and Blanche Pierce, Messrs. A. W. Armstrong, W. D. Ogg, Howard Adams, Courtland Fay, T. J. Hammond, Lou Smith, J. T. Jefferson, Alexander Dick, C. W. McKee, F. C. Woodworth, Arch Smith, Mr. Chandler, Mr. Ricker.

The Home, Sweet Home club has decided to abandon its present quarters on north J street. The members have been dissatisfied with the old club house for some time, and were anxious for a change. They have several places under consideration, and will make a choice in a few days. The boarding house keepers are anxious to secure some of the members as boarders, but they are too thorough clubmen to fall into the snare of the former. Perhaps the boarding house keepers are not to be pitied, after all, for their ill-success, for some of the boys have terrific appetites and would render their landlady very miserable. It is likely the club will have a private dining room in one place and handsome parlors in another, lodging wherever they please. It seems to me this will be a little more expensive than the old arrangement, but the members must have saved considerable money from this economical mode of life, and can afford to branch out a little. With an elegantly furnished suite of rooms in the town's center, the Home, Sweet Home club, might, if it had the ambition, rival the '89-'90 club.

Second Professional Life Saver (equally far-sighted)—You lie; she's mine. (They fight. In the meantime the victim drowns.)

* * *

A society youth who was seen but little in the events of the past season has become quite an original—whether from necessity or choice, I know not. Instead of horses to draw his equipages he uses mules, and it is somewhat novel to see him dashing around the country with his inamorata at his side, whose view of the landscape in front is obscured by the towering ears of the high-spirited mules. Perhaps the mules' ears are equally as effective in hiding the occupants of the vehicle from those coming towards it.

* * *

There is said to be considerable alarm among our tippling maids and matrons over the information in yesterday's REPUBLICAN that those who are addicted to the use of alcoholic beverages are more liable to get the cholera than the temperate and the abstainers.

* * *

It is stated that there is a probability of our society leaders revising the list of those entitled to enter the sacred circle. Such a revision is certainly needed, but what will become of society?

* * *

It will be a blessed day when women and men gathered at a social function will talk about something worth hearing instead of uttering the abominable gabble they do now. This day, however, none of us shall see.

A NOVEL CASE.

A. T. and Thomas Wilkinson Wish to Withdraw From a Bond.

A somewhat novel petition was filed in the superior court yesterday by Thomas and A. T. Wilkinson.

They state that on March 17, 1890, John R. Wilkinson was appointed notary public for Fresno county and they, the petitioners, went on his bond, which was approved by Judge J. B. Campbell a week later.

They now ask to be released from all liabilities hereafter arising on said bond against them, as sureties, for the reason that said John R. Wilkinson has become and is an dissipated and addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors that he cannot be depended upon to properly attend to his duties of notary public.

Seedless Sultanas Grown Near Zebra Without Irrigation—Mineral Exhibit.

At the meeting of the World's Fair commission yesterday, the proposition of Colonel Forsyth to place Fresno's exhibit among the competitive exhibits in the horticultural department of the Columbian exposition was discussed. The arguments in favor of the competitive plan were so convincing that the commissioners, by a unanimous vote, decided to accept the offer.

The secretary was instructed to write to Chief Horticultural Officer Samuels, informing him of the action of the commission and applying for 3000 feet of space for the Fresno exhibit.

C. A. Lee of Zebra, an experienced mining man, offered to collect and prepare a cabinet of the minerals of Fresno county for the World's Fair. Mr. Lee was requested to present his proposition to the commission at its next meeting.

The offer of George C. Roeding to donate samples of 100 varieties of grapes if the commission would furnish 100 museum jars to exhibit them in was laid before the commission. It was said that this would entail an expense of $500, and the commission decided to purchase only twenty jars for twenty varieties of grapes.

Superintendent Baber of the Eisen vineyard volunteered to assist Mr. Roeding in selecting the twenty most valuable varieties.

Adjourned until Tuesday, September 13th.

C. A. Lee presented to the commission a 10-pound stem of seedless Sultanas, grown near Zebra without irrigation.

Z. T. Maxwell of Kingsburg presented some fine peaches.

The Ladies' World's Fair association held a meeting yesterday afternoon and reported satisfactory progress in their preparations for the Fresno county exhibit at the World's Fair.

A SENSIBLE PROGRAM.

One That is Sure to Win the Confidence of the Public.

In outlining to a REPUBLICAN representative the policy which is to be pursued in conducting the business of the Poor Man's Friend corporation, the proprietor stated that the business methods which have made the Poor Man's Friend stores known and popular throughout the valley, will be the rule since the business has taken a new departure, just the same as was the case with the old and smaller concern. The reputation of the stores for being the cheapest place in the valley for clothing, boots and shoes and fancy goods will extend also to dry goods, as the proprietors will pursue the same methods in conducting the dry goods department as have made the reputation of the other departments. A magnificent line of dry goods, consisting of over a carload of goods, are now on the shelves and more are coming. The goods are all standard articles which are splendid value anywhere; there is no trash in the stock of any of the departments of the Poor Man's Friend, as the proprietors know the value of merchandise have bought to advantage, and give their patrons the benefit of the closest prices that can be had in California. The dry goods department will be opened in a few days and due notice will be given in these columns. *
